

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, February 10. 1705.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Feb. 10.

Warsaw, January 23.

THE Troops of the Army of the Crown that lately came hither, having extorted a Sum of Money from this City and its Suburbs, are retir'd and have repass'd the Vistula with Precipitation, upon receiving Intelligence that the Swedes had beaten several Parties of the said Army, and had surpriz'd and made Prisoners a whole Troop at Lowitz 8 Leagues from hence. We cannot learn here when it is that King Augustus is like to return from Saxony to Cracow; but we are inform'd that 3 strong Parties of Swedish Horse, commanded by the Collonels Rose and Camson and Captain Chamber, keep moving up and down on the Frontier of Silesia, to endeavour to seize his said Polish Majesty in his Way back to his Kingdom. The new King Stanislaus is expected here in a few days. Russia, Rubra, and other Provinces of Pologne, that were lately afflicted with the Plague, are now wholly free from it.

From the Rotterdam Gazette, dated Feb. 12.

Koningsberg, Jan. 27. They write from Warsaw, that the pretended King Stanislaus had issued Universalia summoning the Senators to meet there to hold a Council the 29th of this Month. The Troops which the King of Prussia has in this Country consist of 18000 Men, regular Troops: They are quarter'd on the Frontiers of Poland, from the Vistula to the Niemen. The Foot is dispos'd in the lesser Towns, the Horse are canton'd in the Villages. Letters from Keydan tell us, that some Muscovite Troops quarter'd in and about that Place, had defeated a Party of Swedes, and brought in some of them Prisoners thither. The Muscovites are very numerous in Lithuania, where they keep good Discipline, and are to continue there, not to march to Livonia as was reported. The Troops commanded by Prince Wiesnowski and the Starost Oginski, which were quarter'd on the Sea-Coast of Samogitia, about Polangen and Heylinga, are mov'd up into the Country of Lithuania. 10000 Swedes are drawing together at Janiski, 5 Miles from Mitau, under the Command of General Lewenhaupt; and expect to be joyn'd by 5000 more from Poland.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Feb. 10.

Dantzick, Jan. 28. The Cardinal Primate of Poland having excus'd himself from repairing to Elbing to the new King Stanislaus, as fearing to be seiz'd on the Way by some Party of Saxons; King Stanislaus came hither incognito the 24th instant, and had a long Conference with his Eminency; and the next day had a Meeting with Prince Sapieha and several other eminent Persons of his Party. It is not known what was the Subject of these Conferences, but 'tis presum'd it was about the Place and Time of crowning the new Elect. Which Coronation 'tis said will be perform'd at Warsaw or the Abbey of Oliva, because of the Difficulty of doing it at Cracow; the Troops of King Augustus being quarter'd in that Part of the Country.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 10.

Dantzick, Jan. 31. The pretended King Stanislaus, who came hither from Elbing to visit the Cardinal Primate, having been splendidly entertain'd by his Eminency and had several Conferences with him, was conducted by him out of the City, where 30 Swedish Horse were ready to receive him, and 70 more at Quaadorp, who attended him to Marienburg: The 29th Instant he was treated at Dirschau by the Swedish Collonel Ducker, and from thence in Company of several Poles of Quality went towards Warsaw, there to be present in a Council which is 'tis said to confider of fixing a day for his Coronation. The Swedes levy a great many Men in the Villages in this Part of the Country. Some days ago a Party of Swedes seiz'd 115 Sleds, loaded with Russia Leather and other Goods, which were bringing hither from Mohilow. Whereupon some of our Merchants are gone to wait upon the King of Sweden, to lay before him their Claim to those Goods and desire they may be deliver'd to them.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Feb. 12.

Dresden, Feb. 4. King Augustus continues here, nor is the Day of his Departure for Cracow fix'd yet. 'Tis talk'd his Majesty stays till the Swedish General Count Horn comes back from the King of Sweden, with his Master's Answer to some Proposals tending to an Accomodation which that General is suppos'd to have made to him on the Part of King Augustus. Great Preparations are making on both Sides against the Campaign; notwithstanding which we are in great hopes of a speedy Peace.

The last Advices from Poland say, the King of Sweden was on his way to Warsaw, attended by a Guard of 2000 Horse, to meet the new King Stanislaus and the Field Marshal Sapieha there.

Plymouth, Feb. 6.
